THE SEAL OF THE CHANCELLOR OF THE SEE OF DURHAM FOR CAUSES ECCLESIASTICAL
IN THE TIME OF BISHOP BARNES.

AT a MEETING of the COUNCIL of the SURTEES SOCIETY, held in the Warden's Room in the University of Durham on the 14th of June 1849, the President in the chair,

IT WAS RESOLVED, That the ECCLESIASTICAL PROCEEDINGS of RICHARD BARNES BISHOP OF DURHAM be the next publication of the SOCIETY, to be edited by Mr. RAINE, on the usual terms.

CHA. THORP, President.

P R E F A C E.

THIS volume consists of such Documents, at length, or in an abridged form, as illustrate the administration of the See of Durham during the episcopate of Dr. Richard Barnes, the second of its bishops after the Reformation. Of the Bishop himself it has been deemed expedient to reprint the following brief memoir from the first volume of the History of the County of Durham by Mr. Surtees, omitting, however, the Pedigree of his family. Mr. Hutchinson, in his life of the Bishop, is more diffuse, citing at length many authorities, to which Mr. Surtees contents himself with giving reference.

MEMOIR OF DR. RICHARD BARNES.

“DR. RICHARD BARNES, Bishop of Carlisle, was translated to Durham on the 5th of April 1575; had the royal assent on the 29th of the same month, was confirmed on the 9th of May, enthroned on the 19th, and received restitution of the temporalities on the 29th.¹

¹ In a letter, dated 23rd March 1576, he acknowledges the all-powerful minister Burleigh as his patron, to whom he owed both Carlisle and his present promotion. “Your lordship was mine only preferer to Carlell, where I have served my seven years, and I trust discharged the promise yee then made unto her highnes on my behalf, which in this poor and bare living was all that I could do; now by your good means being preferred to a better, if in time I be not thankfull,” &c. Something more, however, was expected from Bishop Barnes than professions, or the discharge of his episcopal duties, and he was

He soon after addressed a letter to his patron, Lord Burleigh,¹ in which, after lauding the people of Northumberland for their civil obedience and excellent conformity, and himself for having driven out ‘the reconciling priests and massers, whereof there was store, but now they be all gone into Lancashire and Yorkshire,’ he proceeds to give the following very different character of our countrymen: ‘I assure your good lordship, those people are far more plyable to all good order than those stubborn, churlish people of the county of Durham and their neighbours of Richmondshire, who shew but, as the proverb is, Jack of Napes charity in their hearts. The customes, the lives of these people (Northumberland), as their country is, is truly salvage; but truly, such haste to amend (though it be for some) as is zealous, and yet none extremity shewed to any, otherwise than by threatening, which hath wrought pannicum terrorem in their minds, and in the clergy a good readiness to apply their travells to their calling, only that Augie stabulum the Church of Durham exceeds, whose stinke is grievous in the nose of God and men, and which to purge far passeth Hercules’ labours. The malicious of this county are mervailously exasperated against me; and whereas at home they dare, neither by words nor deeds, deal undutifully against me, yet abroad, &c., they very soon called upon to grant to the Crown leases of the following manors: Whickham and Gateshead, Norham, Northumberland and the Fisheries, Darlington and Blackwell Mills, Leake Rectory, Midridge, Wolsingham Parke, Coundon Grange, Morton le Grange, Howden, Crake, and Bishop Middleham.—Strype, ii. App. 65. [See NORTH DURHAM, Gen. Introduction, p. 14, p. 28.—Ed.] deface me by all slanders, false reports, and shameless lies; though the same be never so inartificial or incredible, according to the northern guise, which is never to be ashamed, however they bely and deface him whom they hate, yea, though it be before the honorablest. *Pessimum hoc genus hominum ex aliqua invidia laudem sibi quærens.*¹ The rest of Bishop Barnes's history consists chiefly of his very uninteresting disputes with Archbishop Grindal, which may be seen in Strype.² Barnes is said to have been learned, affable and generous, but he wanted firmness to maintain, like his predecessor, the privileges of his see against a rapacious court, and he justly suffered a heavy load of public odium for permitting the oppressions and exactions of his worthless officers and relatives.³ After presiding eleven years, Bishop Barnes died at Auckland, where he chiefly resided, on the 24th of August 1587, and was buried in the middle of the choir of Durham Cathedral.

‘ Reverendo in Christo patri ac domino RICHARD BARNES,
Dunelmæ Episcopo, præsulæ prædocto, liberali et munifico,
P. S. præcharissimo patri, P. P. P. Obiit 24 Augusti
A. D. 1587, ætatis suæ 55. Mors mihi lucrum.

Astra tenent animam, corpusque hoc marmore clusum;
Fama polos penetrat, nomen nati atque nepotes
Conservant: vivit semper post funera virtus.’

“ Thomas Calverley, the late Bishop’s Temporal Chancellor, was appointed guardian of the temporalities September 22, 1587. The see continued vacant nearly two years. The following picture of the state of the Northern diocese at this period is probably not overcharged. ‘ The bishopric greatly impaired, the best things of it demised at length,¹ &c., the diocese, viz. Northumberland, especially about the borders, most wretched and miserable, enough to burst the heart of a well-meaning pastor; so small assistance for public service of religion, and the state, both ecclesiastical and civil, no where less, he thought, in all this realm or the next; the place exceedingly chargeable in peace, and in war doubly dangerous; yet, if God would send it, it should be welcome.’ ”

In the Appendix are contained various documents of a date antecedent and subsequent to the period of Barnes, of a nature tending to illustrate the state of affairs, in an ecclesiastical point of view, of the Diocese of Durham, from the beginning to the end of the sixteenth century, developing the condition of the see at the accession of that prelate, and the state in which he left it.

During the vacancy the Earl of Leicester, according to Strype, advised the Queen to impoverish the bishopric still further by taking 1200*l.* per annum of the best manors and lands in exchange for impropriations and tithes of the same yearly value. iii. 369.

are given at length, as tending to render more complete the series of Durham Wills already printed by this Society. — Appendix, i.—xl., from a transcript in the library of the Dean and Chapter of Durham.¹

VIII. Minister's Account of dissolved chantry rents in 1568.—xciv.—xevii. Ibid.

IX. Notes of Ordinations by Bishop Barnes, from 1577 to 1587.—xeviii.—cii. From the Bishop's Register.

² For the transcript of this survey from the original in the Augmentation Office the Society is indebted to William Woodman, Esq. of Morpeth, one of its members.

X. Wills of beneficed and other clergymen within the Diocese of Durham, from 1559 to 1603, illustrative of their state, condition, &c., and not contained in the volume of Durham Wills referred to in a preceding note. —ciii.—cxl. From the Registry of Durham. The Will of Bishop Barnes himself has been reserved for the Preface.

TESTAMENTUM DOMINI RICHARDI BARNES, NUPER EPISCOPI
DUNELM., DEFUNCTI.

In the name of God Amen. The xxiiijth daie of Auguste, in the yeare of our Lorde God one thousande five hundreth fowerscore and seauen, I, Richard Barnes, Bushoppe of Durham, beinge sicke in bodie but wholle in mynde, for the which I most humblye thanke the Lorde my God, do make this my last Will and Testament in maner and forme followinge. Firste, I bequeath my soule into the hands of Almightye God, who, I do faithfullie beleve will receue the same into eternall life and blissedness for his Sonnes sake, my onely Sauoure and Redeemer, Jesu Christe, upon whose mediacion and meretts I do wholly depend, whose doctrine and everie parte thereof conteyned in his Gospell (whereof I haue liued, and I trust shall departe a faithfull professor, out of this miserable worlde) I do steadfastlie beleve and do make a perticuler confession, accordinge to those Articles of doctrine in religion sett downe and established by publique authoritie in this most christiane realme of Englande in the convocation holden in or aboute the beginnunge of the Queens Majesties raigne, whom I besech the livinge God longe to contynue and prosper, to gouvernar this realme in all godlines, peace and safetie. Item, my will is, that my mortall bodie (beinge I trust the temple of the Holie Ghost) be interred and buried in the Cathedrall Church of Durham, in such place as to my supervisors, hereafter to be named, shall seem most convenient, and in such decente maner of funerall as to my place and callinge apperteyneth, by the discretion of myne executors hereafter in this my Will to be appointed, and at there proper costes and charges. Item, concerninge those goodes, wherwith it haith pleased God so to blesse me in the worlde, and the disposinge of the same, I will and requier that, first, all my goodes and chattalles, moueable and vnmoueable, reall and personall (my debts and funeralls discharged), shalbe devided into three equall partes, whereof I do giue and bequeath one full and wholl parte unto Jane, my welbeloued wiffe, and my will is that the said Jane shall haue, as and for a portion of that her said parte, thre beddes which ar att Durham, and all my stuff which are att Stockden, and one peece of best plaite, weighinge fourtie ounces, fflower horses, vidzt. one which was M^r Ffranklandes, one which was M^r Doctor Pilkington, and one which was my ffathers, and one other graye geldinge which I gaue her att my layt beinge at Stockden. The other two partes of my goodes I do giue and bequeath to Doctor Emanuel Barnes, John Barnes, Barnabie Barnes, Tymothy Barnes, Margaret Barnes and Anne Barnes, my children, equallie to be devided amongst them. Item, I do give and bequeath unto my said sonne Emanuell Barnes my lease of Wolsingham Parke, if the said Emanuell go forwarde in gettinge for him a prefermente (knowne to M^r Thomas Burton, Doctor of Lawe and other), with the same lease, and also if he the said Doctor Emanuell do paie to the said Margaret Barnes and Anne Barnes his sisters fflower hundrede markes, equallie to be devided betwene them; but if it fortune the said preferment be not therewith obteyned, then my will is, that the benefite of the saide lease shalbe equallie devided amonge all my children before named, by the discretion of the supervisors of this my Testament. Item, I do forgiue and remitte and giue and bequeath vnto my sonne in lawe, Robert Tailboyes, Esquier, all such debts and sommes of money as I haue paide for him att London, which debts and sommes and parcell therof are knowne to Henry Appleby, my steawarde. Item, I do giue and bequeath to Marie Joselinge, my daughter, one of my best beddes, with all the furniture thereto belonginge. Item, my will is, that Jane, my said wife, shall haue the custodie and bringinge vppe of my two youngest daughters, Margaret Barnes and Anne Barnes, with there portions. Item, I do give and bequeath to the poore twentie pounds, to be distributed by mine executors, or any of them. Item, I give vnto my housholde servants every of them two yeares wages, and that by the space of one moneth after my buryall and funerall solemnized as aforesaide, they shall haue meat and drinke in my house and lodginge, as they haue bene accustomed. Item, I give and bequeath to Brasenosse Colledge in Oxenforde five poundes in bookes; to the librarie of the Cathedrall Church of Carlell five poundes in books; to the librarie of the Cathedrall Church of Yorke five poundes in books; and to the librarie of the Cathedrall Church of Durham five poundes in books, at the discretion of the Right worshipfull M^r Doctor Tobie Matthewe, Deane of Durham. Item, I do appointe, ordaine, and make the said Doctor Emanuell Barnes, John Barnes, Barnabie Barnes, Tymothy Barnes, Margaret Barnes and Anne Barnes, my children, my full executors of this my last Will and Testament; and I do also desier the Right worshipfull M^r Doctor Tobie Matthewe, Deane of Durham, and John Heeth, the younger, esquier, to be the supervisors of this my last Will and Testament. Witnesses hereof, Tobie Matthewe, William Hilton, Thomas Calverlie, Thomas Burton, Henrie Ewbanke, Clemente Colmer, Robert Bellamy, Edward Banks.¹

If a question should arise, why the Society has directed its attention to the proceedings of the second Protestant Bishop of Durham rather than to those of his predecessor, Bishop Pilkington, it must be stated in reply, that, although many of Pilkington's acts are preserved, others have unfortunately been lost, and in consequence a main source of information towards the completion of a compilation like the present is wanting. Of Pilkington's proceedings, however, one specimen may be given, the Preamble to the Statutes of his Consis-

STATUTA CONSISTORII EPISCOPALIS DUNELMEN.

JACOBUS miseratione Divina Dunelmensis Episcopus, PILKINTONUS nuncupatus, ad perpetuam rei memoriam.

Postquam nos, Dei benignitate ac Serenissimæ Dominae Reginae Elizabethæ, ad regendum Episcopatum Dunelmensem assumpti seu eveci sumus, nostri in primis erat instituti, summiq; studii, ut populus diocesis nostræ, officiis, vel divinis vel humanis, minus assuetus, moribusque depravatus, recte informaretur et in ordine contineretur. Quod tum futurum credidimus, si grex, nostræ fidei commissus, verâ imprimis erga Deum religione et pietate, et erga alios justitiâ et equabilitate quadam (unde cætera morum et vitæ officia derivantur) paulatim institueretur ac succresceret. Hinc est quod operam dedimus, ut, nostra preeunte sollicitudine, essent infra Diocesim Dunelmensem nostram qui plebi, et eterni verbi pabulum, (quantum corrupta hæc mundi senectus patitur) et leges etiam ac publicam disciplinam sincere proponerent; ut hoc demum modo, pascendo scilicet et regendo, etsi non abunde, tamen aliquâ ex parte, divino honori, regiae expectationi et nostro pastoralis officio in spiritualibus et temporalibus esset satisfactum. Jam vero inter alia quæ nostris incumbunt humeris ex injuncto nobis onere, illud debet cordi nostro non mediocriter incedere, ut Curia Consistorii nostri Dunelmensis, ad quam undique confluunt subditi nostrarum Civitatis et Diocesis, pro justitia in suis causis et negotiis confidenter obtinenda, reformetur rectèque constitueretur: atque, quamvis sedes Episcopalis annos plus quingentos Dunelmi constiterit, certum est tamen perpauca hodie in archivis nostris conspici monumenta preteriti temporis, adeo ut vix vestigium referant tanti thesauri deperditi. Certum quoque est multa hodie negliger et parum sincere tractari, judicariumque ordinem et vigorem ita in desuetudinem et obsoletam deformitatem abiisse, ut nulla pars muneris nostri majorem et celeriore desiderat reformationem. Sed illinc remedium petendum est unde morbus videtur esse ortus. Huic autem malo causam et initium hinc datum esse arbitramur, quod Consistorium nostrum nullis certis regulis aut statutis hactenus continebatur; ac Officiales, eorumque ministri, hac licentiâ paulatim abusi, non tam quid sibi liceret, quam quid liberet, spectârunt. Sed frustra conqueritur de predecessoribus nostris, cum nostra sit hodie culpa ea omittere quæ in aliis reprehendimus. Ac de hoc medendo malo nobis sollicitè cogitantibus, simulque cupientibus, quæ nostro tempore acta fuerint ea fideli manu ad posteros transferri, mandavimus predilecto nobis in Christo Roberto Swifte, in utroque jure Bachalaureo, Vicario nostro in Spiritualibus Generali et Officiali principali, pro suâ experientiâ et fori nostri consuetudine, proque ea fide, qua nobis tenetur, quatenus ordinationes seu statuta quædam nostro nomine de officio Judicis, Registrarii, Procuratorum et Apparitorum, deque custodia Actorum et Feodis Consistorii nostri, ceterisque articulis ad hanc causam necessariis, communicato etiam cum aliis, si opus fuerit, in jure peritis consilio, scripto subjungeret, nobisque approbanda seu corrigenda offerret. Cujus quidem mandati vigore pariter et autoritate, dictus officialis noster Statuta, sub hac (quam cernitis) formâ, redegit et nobis exhibuit. Nos igitur, et legimus et recognovimus, et plenissimum nostrarum constitutionum robur eis accommodavimus, et per presentes non solum nostra fecimus, sed etiam pro veris et indubitatis Consistorii nostri Dunelmensis Statutis haberi volumus. Salvo semper jure nobis ac successoribus nostris, Episcopis Dunelmensibus, statuta hæc mutandi, alterandi, et cum illis dispensandi, et, si videbitur, etiam nova condendi.

Hæc igitur statuta nostra, ad Dei honorem, justitiæ conservationem, et subditorum Diocesis nostræ utilitatem, per officialem nostrum, qui pro tempore fuerit, et per omnes et singulos officiales successorum nostrorum, quos Dunelmensi Curiae præsidere contigerit in futurum, necnon per quoscunque alios ipsius Consistorii ministros, seu gerentes aliquod officium in eodem, volumus et precipimus futuris perpetuis temporibus inviolabiter observari, ac per ipsum Officialem qui pro tempore fuerit, omni anno in proximo Consistorio post festum Sancti Michaelis Archangeli seriatim et distincte legi et solemniter publicari.

Datum in manerio nostro de Awkeland Episcopi tricesimo primo die mensis Martii, annis, Domini 1573, Reginae Elizabethæ decimo quinto, et nostræ consecrationis decimo tertio.

This volume, and the “Depositions and other Ecclesiastical Proceedings from the Courts of Durham, from 1311 to the reign of Elizabeth,” lately published, whilst they have an especial tendency to carry out the great objects of the Surtees Society, as far as the diocese of Durham is concerned, give no mean indication of the valuable stores which must of necessity lie buried in the registries of other dioceses. York is rich beyond measure in historical and philological treasures, but the Surtees Society has in vain made application for a second volume of Testamenta Eboracensia, the most popular of its publications.

rali, et Archidiaconis tam Dunelmensi quam Northumbriæ,¹ necnon Custodi Jurisdictionis Decani et Capituli Dunelmensis dari. Quas Injunctiones quidem et Moniciones Sinodales dictus Reverendus Pater decrevit et mandavit observari [et] exequi per totum Clerum totius Dioceseos Dunelmensis predictæ, sub pœnis in eisdem contentis; et monuit totum Clerum prædictum accipere copias Monicionum et Injunctionum Sinodaliū hujusmodi, expensis communibus parochianorum cujuslibet parochiæ et capellanix. Ac etiam pronunciavit omnes et singulos hujusmodi Clericos non comparentes contumaces, et in pœnam contumaciarum suarum hujusmodi eos, et eorum quemlibet, excommunicavit in scriptis, prout patet tenore schedulæ per dictum Reverendum Patrem lectæ, ut subsequitur.

IN Dei nomine, Amen. Nos Richardus, Divina Providentia Dunelmensis Episcopus, rite et legitime procedentes, omnes et singulos Rectores, Vicarios, et Curatos, quorum nomina in Rotulo Sinodali continentur, et qui in dicto Rotulo absentes annotantur, propter ipsorum contumacias in non comparendo coram nobis, istis die et loco, ad subeundum hanc nostram sacrosanctam Sinodum, alias inchoatam et celebratam, legitime monitos, publice præconizatos, diutiusque expectatos, et nullo modo comparentes, pronunciamus contumaces, et eorum quemlibet contumacem, et in pœnam contumaciarum suarum hujusmodi eos, et eorum quemlibet, excommunicamus in his scriptis.

CERTEYNE Monicions and Iniunctions given by vs Richarde, Bisnor's
Visitation,
Oct. 1577.
by Godds divine providence Busshop of Duresme, to the Clergie and Churchwardons within our Dioces, and to everie of them, respectivelie, in our Sinode by us celebrated and holden at Duresme, in the Gallelee within our Cathedrall church ther, on Tewesdaie the first daie of October 1577, and the first yeare of our translacion to the sea of Duresme afforesaid as followethe.

1. FIRST, we monishe and streitlie enioyne and commaunde that all and singler the Quenes Maiesties Iniunctions¹ be in all respectes dulye and fully observed, performed, and fulfilled, of all and singler persons to whome the same doeth apperteyne, vnder the paynes and censures ecclesiasticall.

2. ITEM, that the Parsons, Vicars, Curates, and Churchwardens doe within their severall parishes taikie order, and se that the blessed Sacramente of the body and blode of our Saviour Jesu Christe be reverentlie ministred and receyved in every parishe church, at least once everye monethe. And that they see and diligently loke that all and every there parishoners, beinge above xiiij yeres of aige, do openly receyve the holly Communion in their parishe Church at least thrise everye yere, wherof at the feast of Easter to be once. And if any shall not receyve the holly Communion thrise, as abovesaid, that they faill not to maikie dew presentment of the names and surnames of suche yerely, at the generall Synode holden after Easter.

3. ITEM, that no notorious adulterer, fornicator, incestuous person, filthie and comon drunkarde, horrible swerers or blasphemers of the name of God, curser or banner, or beater of father or mother, or knowne usurer, or any other notorious open evill liver, be admitted to the holly Communion before they shall first be reconvented, reconciled, or punished. And we monishe and require every Parson, Vicar, and Curate, within his severall cure, that, wheresoever they shall note or perceyve any to be suspected to be suche offender, they furthwith, taiking the Churchwardens with them, goe to suche suspected person, and seke by all meanes to reduce such offendour and to reclayme him if they can. And, if they cannot soo doe, that then they furthwith maike presentment therof to the Ordinary, or to the Quenes Highnes Commissioners¹ for causes ecclesiastical within this said dioces of Duresme.

4. ITEM, we monishe and straitlie charge that none be admitted to the holly Communion which ar not confirmed, and which cannot say the Catechisme perfetely, if the said person be under th'aige of xxx. yeres, and that none above xxx. yeres be ¹ Much interesting information with respect to Royal Commissions for Causes Ecclesiastical may be found in Dr. Cardwell's Documentary Annals, i. 217, &c. Of the Commission in force, when Barnes published his Monitions, we have the following Abstract in the Common Place Book of Dr. Swift, his chancellor, preserved in the library of the Dean and Chapter of Durham. The names of the Commissioners are given by Hutclinson, Durham, ii. 151. Dr. Swift has in the same book recorded at length a subsequent Commission for the same purposes, dated on the 13 Nov. 31 Eliz. (1589), with an elaborate syllabus of its contents.

"To execute two actes of Parliament made anno 1^o. Eliz., th'one intituled An Acte ffor Uniformitie of Common Praier and Service of the Church, etc., th'other intituled an Acte restoringe to the Crowne the auncient jurisdiction, &c.

"To enquire of all and singuler hereticall opinions, sedecious bokes, contemptes, conspiracies, false rumors, tales, sedecious misbehaviours, slanderous wordes or saings, published, invented, or set furthe against us, our crowne, or against any the lawes and statutes of this our realme, in such cases provided; or against the quiet government and rule of our people and subjectes, etc., and of all co-adjutors, concellours, procurers, comforters and abettours, of every such offenders.

"To enquire, as well by othes of twelve men, as also by witnesses, and all other waies and meanes ye can devise done against the lawes afforesaid. (sic.)

"To heare and determine all and singuler enormities, disturbances, assaultes, affraies and misbehaviours, done or committed in any churche or churchyearde or chappell, or against any devine service, or the ministers of the same, in or aboute the doinge of devine service, contrary to the lawes and statutes of this realme, or shall obstinately absent them selves from the churche.

"To enquire of all such errours, heresies, schismes, abuses, offences, contherunto admitted ones they can perfectly saye the Lord's Prayer, th'Articles of the Christian faith, and the Ten Commandements; and that none be suffered to be married or become a godfather or godmother . . . any infant at bapisme but as afforesaid. And we streitly charge and commannde that the Parsons, Vicars, and Curates doe diligently¹ sondaie, for the space of an hower before eveninge prayer, in the churches and chappels teache the children and yonge folkes the Catechisme, examyne and appose them² in the same; and "To enquire and search out all persons, being in the ministry, or having ecclesiasticall livinges, lurking or hiding them selves in secret places within the limits, etc.

"To heare and determine all notorious and manifest adulterers, fornications, and ecclesiasticall crymes, and offences.

"To use and devise all such politike waies and meanes for the triall and searching out of all the premisses as you thinke expedient and necessary. And upon confession, witnesses, or other dewe meanes, to punishe by fyne, imprisonment or otherwise, by all or any the waies afforesaid, as to your wisdoms and discretions shalbe thought mete. Also to call suspected persons, and to examyne witnesses by othe.

"That all obstinate or disobedient persons, or not accomplishing orders, be committed to warde, ther to remayne untill they be delivered.

"To take and receive by your discretions of offenders or suspected persons, etc., recognizances or obligations to the Quenes Majestie use.

"To chuse and appoint Registers and writers of your proceedings, and to give allowances to be levied of forfeitures of bandes.

"Then to appoint one sufficient person to gather up the fynes and forfeitures; to consider his or other men's paines in attending upon you.

"After the Commission expired to certifie unto the Court of the Exchequer, as well the name of the receaver as also a note of such recognizances, forfeitures and fynes; and the auditours and other officers must allowe the receivers accomptes subscribed.

"All justices of peace, maiors, sheriffes, baliffes, constables and other officers ministers and subiectes, are to be ayding, asisting and helping, at commandement.

"These lettres patentes are a sufficient warrant against the Quene and all other persons for doinge the premisses."

Dr. Swift subjoins "a Note of Fees payde at Yorke to the Register of the said Commissioners."

5. ITEM, that no Communiones or Commemoracions (as some call them) be said for the dead, or at the burials of the dead; or anyversaries or monethes myndes¹ be used for the dead, nor any superfluous ringinge at burials, nor any superfluous ringings on All Saints Daie at night, or on the daie followinge, of old superstitiously called All Sowles daie.²

opponentes, &c. See Peacock on the Statutes of the University of Cambridge, Appendix A. xiii. It also occurs in the following very humiliating description of the clergy of Tynedale and Reedsdale in Northumberland, within the diocese of Durham, in 1498, contained in the Monition of Bishop Fox to the thieves of those two valleys.

“Compluresque capellanos sæpe nominatarum partium et territoriorum de Tyndale et Ryddysdalle, publicos et manifestos concubenarios, irregulares, suspensos, excommunicatos et interdictos, necnon literarum penitus ignaros, adeo ut per decennium celebrantes, nec ipsa quidem verba sacramentalia, uti quibusdam eorum opponentis experti sumus, legere sciant; nonnullos etiam non ordinatos, sed sacerdotii effigiem duntaxat prætendentes, non modo in locis sacris et dedicatis, verum etiam in prophanis et interdictis ac miserabiliter ruinatis, necnon vestimentis ruptis, laceratis et fœdissimis, Divino, immo nec humano, officio aut servitio dignis, quasi Deum contemnentes, induti, Divina celebrare, sacraque et sacramentalia ministrare intelleximus. Dieti præterea capellani, supradictis furibus, latronibus, depredatoribus, receptatoribus et raptoribus, manifestis et famosis, sacramenta et sacramentalia ministrant, sine debita restitutione aut animo restituendi, ut ex facti evidentia constat, sieque eos, sine cautione de restituendo, ecclesiasticæ sepulturæ, cum ex sacrorum canonum et sanctorum patrum institutis hæc facere prohibentur, passim committunt, in animarum suarum grave periculum, aliorumque Christi fidelium exemplum perniciosum, plurimorumque spoliatorum et privatorum bonis, rebus, pecoribus et catallis suis hujusmodi damnum non modicum et gravamen.”

The very important document from which the above is an extract is most inaccurately printed in the Preface to the “Minstrelsy of the Scottish Border,” by Sir Walter Scott. It is now in the press, at length, carefully copied from Fox’s Register, in a volume of Ecclesiastical Proceedings, Depositions, &c., printed by the Surtees Society, for the year 1845.

² A Black Fast implies abstinence not only from flesh-meat but also from the lactinia. The first is observed during the ordinary Lent; the latter characterises what is called a Black Lent. The abstinence from lactinia is enjoined in England only on Ash Wednesday and the four last days of Lent.—R. T.

Barnes, will be read with interest. The extract is made from vol. iii. p. 273, in the chapter on Inordinate Liberty of Prophesying:—

"Albeit the Reverend Fathers of our Church, and their suffraganes, should use all possible care and diligence for performing of all that is on their parts required, yet, without some better conformitie of Catechisms and reformation of such as write them or preach doctrines conformable to them, there is small hope that in such plentie of preachers, as now there are, this work of the Lord should prosper half so well as it did in those TIMES and in those Dioceses wherein there were scarce ten able preachers, besides the Prebendaries of the Cathedral Church, under whose tuition, in a manner, the rest of the Clergie were. I well remember, and I cannot but remember it with joy of heart, that the Synods in that Diocese [Durham] wherein I was bred did constantly examine the Licensed Readers, how they had profited in their learning, by their Exercises, which they did as duly exhibit unto the Chancellor, Archdeacon, &c, as they did their orders or their fees. Such as had profited well were licensed to preach once a month, or once a quarter, having certain books appointed, from whose doctrine they should not swarve, but for the most part translate. The authors then in most esteem were Melanethon, Bullinger, Hemingius (especially in Postils and other opuseula of his), or other writers, who were most conformable to the Book of Homilies, which were weekly read upon severe penaltie. But since the liberty of prophesying was taken up, which came but lately into the Northern parts (unless it were in the towns of Newcastle and Barwick, wherein Knox, Mackbray, and Udal had sown their tares), all things have gone so cross and backward in our church, that I cannot call the historie of these fortie years or more to mind or express my observations upon it but with a bleeding heart."

Dr. Jackson, below, proves that this very book was used in the diocese when he was a boy.

"A Postill, or Exposition of the Gospels that are usually read in the Churches of God upon the Sundayes and Feast-dayes of Sainets, written by Nicholas Heminge, a Dane, a preacher of the Gospell in the Universitie of Hafne, and translated into English by Arthur Golding. Imprinted at London for Lucas Harrison and George Byshop." The Dedication, "to the right honorable Sir Walter Mildmay, Knt., chauncelor of the Queenes Majesties Courte of Eschequer," &c., is dated at "London the xij of October 1569."

Bound in the same volume is—"A Postill or Orderly disposing of certerne Epistles usually read in the Church of God uppon the Sundayes and Holydayes throughout the whole Yeere, written in Latine by David Chytraeus, and translated into English by Arthur Goldyng, seen and allowed according to the order appoynted. Imprinted at London for Lucas Harryson and George Bishop, anno Domini 1577." Dedication to Sir Walter Myldmay, 'finished at Powles Belehamp the last day of March 1570.'

The memoranda connecting the book with the parish of Readmarshall are as follows. At the beginning of the Gospels, "Postill belonging to Readmarshall Church, price vijs. iiijd." And at the end of the Epistles, "The price of this book, belonging to Readmarshall, ijs. iiijd."

It may, perhaps, be necessary to remark that the word Postill takes its origin from its commentarial character. The portion of Scripture to be commented upon, here confined to the Gospels and Epistles throughout the year stands first, and then post illam follows the gloss or explanation, which frequently, and especially in the book before us, assumes the character of a sermon under regular heads, with due application.

"I shall every day bless my Lord God, as for all others, so in particular for this great blessing, bestowed upon me, that I was, in a convenient age, in a happy time and place, presented by my sureties in baptism, to ratifie the vow which they made for me, and to receive the benediction of the Bishop of the Diocese (of Durham), being first instructed in the Church's catechism by the curate of the parish; from whose lips (though but a meer grammar scholar, and one that knew better how to read an homilie or to understand Hemingius, or other Latine Postills, than to make a sermon in English) I learned more good lessons then I did from many popular sermons, and to this day remember more than men at this time of greater years shall find in many late applauded catechisms."—Works of Dr. Thomas Jackson, ed. fol. vol. iii. p. 273. Dr. Jackson, it may be repeated, was born at Witton le Wear, in the county of Durham, in 1578. The Postils of Taverner, of the same character as those of Heming and Chytraeus, have lately been reprinted by Dr. Cardwell, who, however, has not found the use of them publicly enjoined, as is the case here in the diocese of Durham.

Gospell, before yow laide, that yow shall execute the said office effectuallie and diligently, to the advancemente of Godde's glorie and the commoditie of this church and parishe. The Quene's Iniunctions and the Ordinarie's Monicions ye shall observe, and so far as in yow liethe cause others to observe; and the violators of the same yow shall duely and without all parcialitie present and detecte [to] the Quene's Highnes Commissioners for causes Ecclesiasticall within this Dioces, or to the iurates and sworne men, or to the Chauncelor. And yow shall yeilde and give vp at the yeres ende a faithefull and true accompte of all somes by yowe receyved and laide out for the vse of this church; and all suche somes of money, church implementes, furnitures, and bookes, as then shall remayne vnder your charge yow shall faithfully and fully paie over and delyver to your successours. ¹ That this person had been originally an inmate of the Priory of Brinkburne, after the dissolution converted into a chapel of ease, of which he is here in his extreme old age serving the cure, is proved by the following curious extract from a deposition, taken under a special commission from the Crown, in 1586.

“William Brunton of Morpeath, co. Northumb., aged five score yeares, deposeth, that, about 12 yeares last past (viz. in 1574), by virtue of a commission, &c., they the said commissioners, at Breckburne, called before them one Sr Edmond Wylly, an olde preist of Breckburne Abbie, who of his othe affirmed that he served the late Priour of Breckbourne Abbie, and that the said pryor, before the dissolueion of the said monasterie, called him, the said Edmund, unto him, and said, take heare this £10, and go carrie it to Allexander Hearon of Meldon, frome me,” &c. Willy died in the course of the year 1579, but he was exeused attending at the intermediate visitations on account of his old age.

[At the end of this Visitation of Northumberland, it is worthy of remark, that in many parishes or chapelries, in which was settled a house of old descent and note and coat armour, we have one of the same family name acting as parish clerk; a fact which is not to be observed in the Visitation of the county of Durham, to which we proceed. The following list, derived from the preceding pages, leads to the conclusion that either the persons here specified were in such circumstances as to make even a parish-clerkship acceptable, or that they thus officiated because no parishioner of the humbler class was able to read,

George Wallis, parish clerk of Knaresdale.

John Whitfield . . . Whitfield.

Ralph Thornton . . . Netherwitton.

Francis Ogle . . . Hebburne.

Ralf Ogle . . . Horsley.

Robert Lawrence (or Loraine) Kirkharle.

George Hall . . . Elsdon.

Roger Collingwood . . . Whittingham.

Thomas Ilderton . . . Ilderton.

Matthew Forster . . . Bamborough.

² The history of this person is not without its interest. He was originally a monk of Durham, having been educated in Durham College, Oxford, in which university he was admitted to the degree of Doctor of Divinity on the 5th of July 1535. In 1536 he was Prior of the Cell of Finchale, a daughter of the great mother Church of Durham, to which he returned when Finchale was dissolved by the act of Parliament of that year, and here he sojourned till Durham, in its turn, yielded, in 1541, when he became, under the charter of the newly founded cathedral, the first prebendary of the fourth stall. Being now discharged from his vow of eelibacy, he took to himself a wife; and Mickleton has preserved the following scrap of tradition respecting his marriage: "Vetus fuit proverbium, seu dictum, tempore Jacobi regis Primi, et antea,

'The Prior of Finkela hath got a fair wife,
And every monk will have one.' "

On the 9th Nov. 1571, as Vicar of Kelloe, he gave his consent to the Articles agreed upon in Convocation in 1562, as is proved by the Certificate from Bishop Pilkington, in Dr. Swift's book. In addition to his stall, we find him in this Visitation holding the vicarages of Kelloe above-mentioned, and Aycliffe. The former he resigned in 1579. He held till his death the latter, in the church of which he was buried, on the 20th Feb. 1584. He for some years before his death laboured under great bodily infirmity, and now, and during the remainder of his life, he was, for that reason, regularly excused attending the visitations. His will bears date on the 4th of April 1583, and is printed in the Appendix. He calls his wife, who was then alive, Ann Bennett alias Thomsoun; and other instances have occurred of persons, who had before the Dissolution been under a vow of celibacy, speaking of the wives, whom they had subsequently married, in a similar way. He was rich in silver plate and furniture, and his barns and granaries were well plenished; but his books, which were in his parlour, were valued only at five shillings. He left three sons, Isaac, Robert and John, and a daughter Jane; and, according to a note in Hutchinson, ii. 183, his great grandson was living at Aycliffe in 1717. It may be remarked, that the testator had once a brother Robert, who was also, in his younger days, a monk of Durham, and who subsequently became the first prebendary of the eleventh stall and Vicar of Gainford. This latter person made his Will during the reign of Mary, in 1558, and it contains abundant proof that he had again sided with the times. See it printed at length in the Wills and Inventories printed by the Surtees Society in 1835. The following extract from it may be here made with propriety.

“I geve my soull to Almighty God, my Redemer and Saviour, to our blessed Ladye St. Marye, and to all the blessed companye of heaven; my hodye to be buryed in the cathedral church of Durham; and to have, the daye of my buryall, masse dirige and suffrages due and accustomed. I bequith to the poore people in Barnard Castle and Gaynforth, my parishioners, to be distributed for the welth of my soul ther, sex pounds in monye.” This last mentioned person, Robert Bennet, was bursar of the church of Durham at the Dissolution, and his book of accounts from 1530 to 1535 has lately been published by the Surtees Society, under the title of THE DURHAM HOUSEHOLD BOOK.

² This person had been at an earlier period chaplain and executor to Dr. Thomas Sparke, a monk of Durham, Prior of Holy Island, Rector of Wolsingham, Master of Gretham Hospital, Prebendary of Durham, and the first and last suffragan Bishop of Berwick, to whose patronage he doubtless owed his vicarage of Gretham. Bishop Sparke died in 1572, bequeathing £5 to be distributed "in the tyme I lye in my passions," and leaving behind him much treasure, especially a mitre "set with stones and perle," valued at £13 6s. 8d. He had in his lifetime prepared for himself a grave in Durham Cathedral, before the altar at which he had officiated as a monk before the Dissolution, but Winter, his executor, buried his master at Gretham, and sold the grave and the blue slab which covered it to William Stephenson, one of the prebendaries, who was consigned to the intended resting-place of the bishop four years afterwards. The slab remains in situ in the middle chapel of the transept on the way to the clock. The two Sparkes mentioned as churchwardens above were, no doubt, relations of the bishop.

Persons excommunicated for non-attendance.

M^r Leonard Pilkington, S. T. P. rector of Middleton in Teasdaill; absolved 11 Feb. 1577.¹

John Bigod and Roland Harrison, churchwardens of Consclif. Thomas Blaxton, rector of Dynsdaill, and the parish clerk there.

George Bell, churchwarden of Dynsdall.

George Cliff, rector of Branspeth; absolved 11 Feb. 1577.²

Rob. Swift.

Sheet of excommunicated persons read in the church of St. Andrew Aukland, 6 Feb. 1577.

At the termination of the Call for Northumberland, p. 45 above, a remark was made respecting the number of persons who were serving the office of parish clerk in parishes or chapelries in which a family of rank of the same name was flourishing. The same circumstance is not observable in the county of Durham. The only two names which here savour of gentility are John Featherstonhaugh, parish clerk of Stanhope, and Anthony Conyers, of Haughton le Skerne. Two gentlemen are acting as churchwardens at Tanfield, Thomas Tempest and Robert Harbottle. It must be remarked, with respect to the clergy of both counties, that few persons of old family appear as incumbents; the following, however, are names of old descent. Hugh Wallis, rector of Kirkhaugh, Arthur Shafto, vicar of Chollerton and Stamfordham, Thomas Warwick, rector of Morpeth, Ralph Grey, vicar of Whelpington, William Hall, rector of Elsdon, William Heron, vicar of Alnham, John Grey, vicar of Chillingham, Francis Brackenbury, curate of Croxdale, Edward Conyers, curate of Longnewton, Thomas Blaxton, rector of Dinsdale, and Francis Trollop, vicar of Sockburne.

¹ With respect to this Visitation of the Dean and Chapter of Durham by their new bishop, and the reasons which led to it, see Strype's Annals of the Reformation, ii. 181; Rymer's Fœdera, xv. 785; and Hutchinson's Durham, ii. 144, &c. Barnes's proceedings seem to have been chiefly directed against Dean Whittingham, whose Geneva orders (he had married the sister of Calvin) were considered to disqualify him for preferment in the Church of England. The Bishop prorogues his Visitation till the 1st of October next following, and in the mean time the Dean dies, and we hear no more of a Visitation of the Dean and Chapter till the year 1580, when this exercise of episcopal jurisdiction was solicited by the body itself. The Dean and Chapter had, in 1577, petitioned the Bishop "to do nothing prejudicial to the church of Durham, but to visit us according to our statutes."

BISHOP'S
Visitation,
April 1578.

[The above proceedings are given at length. For the future, during the remainder of the Bishop's Visitation, it may be sufficient to give the following abstract of what was done by the bishop or his commissioners.]

MORPETH. Tuesday, 15 April 1578. The Visitation of the Deanery of Morpeth was held by the commissioners in the chapel of All Saints in Morpeth.

ALNWICKE. Thursday, 17 April 1578. At the Visitation of the Deanery of Alnwicke the Bishop himself was present, and the proceedings run in his name and those of the three commissioners.

BARWICKE. Saturday, 19 April 1578. The commissioners held their Visitation in the parish church or chapel of Twed-mouthe.

CHESTER IN LE STRETE. Wednesday, 23 April 1578. For the ward of Chester. The registrar has neglected to insert the name of the visitor in the blank left for that purpose.

AWKELAND ST. ANDREW. Monday, 28 April 1578. For the Deanery of Darlington. Visitation held by Robert Swifte, one of the commissioners.

GRETEHAM. Wednesday, 30 April 1578. For the Deanery of Stockton. Visitation held by Robert Swifte.

On the same day the commissioner above mentioned visited the Hospital of Gretham, and the Master, Mr John Kingesmill, not appearing, he pronounced him contumacious, proroguing his visitation till the second day of June following. On the 2nd of June the Master was again absent, and notice was given to him to appear on the 8th of July. On that day he was again absent, and a citation viis et modis, for the 24th of July, was decreed against him. The commissioner upon this occasion was Robert Swifte, but by a commission from the Bishop mentioned in the proceedings, Thomas Burton, V.D.M. and Henry Dethicke, LL.B.¹ were his colleagues for the purpose of proceeding further in the visitation of the Hospital. On the 24th of July the three commissioners attended in person, but the master was still absent, and the visitation was prorogued till the 13th of October. John Hormeside and Andrew Allanson, two of the brethren, were presented, the former for being “a comon drunkarde,” and the latter, “He doethe not his lawfull obedience to the M^r of the Hospitall or suche as are placed in his stead; and did departe frome the Ospitall without leave, and said, if the M^r wold not geve him leave, he wold goo without leave.”

BISHOP'S
Visitation,
April 1573.

1 Mar. 1577-8. In Galilea coram Roberto Swifte.

Officium domini pro admissione magistri Henrici Dethicke in legibus Baccalaurei in Advocatum Curie Consistorialis Dunelmensis.

Quibus die horis et loco dictus magister Henricus Dethick literas quasdam Reverendi in Christo Patris et domini domini Richardi, Divina Providentia Dunelmensis Episcopi, manu sua propria scriptas et sigillo suo ad arma sigillatas, domino Judici hujus Curie tradidit et deliberavit in his verbis:

“To M^r Roberte Swifte, my Chaunceler Ecclesiasticall at Durham, salutem per Jesum Christum. After my hartie commendacions, I pray yow admitte and sweare this berer, Mr. Henrie Dethicke, an advocate, to proeure in my courte at Durhan, and shewe him all favour therin, that he may attayne to some better ripenesse in practises and judiciall proecesses, wherin I knowe yow ar an experte and skillfull m^r. I praye yow shew him your favour herin. Faire well in Christ Jesu. From Awkeland, the first of Marche 1577. Yours in Christ Jesu.

“Ri. Dunelmen.”

Quibus literis publice perlectis dominus, ob honorem dicti Reverendi Patris committentis et scribentis, ipsum magistrum Henriem Dethicke in ejusdem Curie Consistorialis Dunelmensis advocatum admisit (delato primitus sibi ac per ipsum juramento corporali de agnoscendo Regiam potestatem ac juramento in statutis Curie Consistorialis Dunelmensis de hujusmodi statuta perimplendo descripto). Et decrevit literas testimoniales super hujusmodi sua admissione si voluerit.—From the contemporary Act Book.

Dethicke eventually became Chancellor of the See of Carlisle, Master of St. Mary's Hospital in Newcastle, and Master of Gretham, upon the ejection of Kingsmill, upon whom he is here sitting in judgement.

CHANCELLOR'S VISITATION

IN JULY 1578.¹

CHANCELLOR'S
Visitation,
July 1578.

GENERAL CHAPTER held at Newcastle on Tuesday, the 15th day of July 1578, in the Church of St. Nicholas, before the Venerable Robert Swifte, Vicar-General and Official Principal, in the presence of Gilbert Spence, Notary Public for the Deanerie of Newcastle and Corbridge.

Parish clerks and schoolmasters are not mentioned throughout the whole of this Visitation, and therefore they were probably not cited. The Clergy are duly called, and in one instance only in these two deaneries, that of St. Nicholas in Newcastle, the churchwardens are mentioned by name, but with no notice of their appearance.

THE GOSPEL OF ST. MATTHEW. In conformity with the 12th Monition (p. 20), and the charge given in each deanery during the preceding General Visitation in January and February last, that the clergy should at the present visitation, in proof of their "progresse in learninge and studyinge of the scriptures," give an account of the Gospel of St. Matthew, in Latin, if they were acquainted with the language, and if not, in English, due enquiries were made, and the following are abstracts under each Deanery of the manner in which the "tax" had been attended to.

John Killingworthe, vicar of Benton, Thomas Anderson, curate of Earsdon, and Martin Liddall, curate of Haidon, are reported to have performed their task. "Exhibuit compotum finitum" is the marginal note of the officer against their names respectively.

Thomas Kay, curate of St. Nicholas in Newcastle, Cuthbert

CHANCELLOR'S
Visitation,
July 1578.

Richard Hancocke, vicar of Ponteland, Thomas Marshall, vicar of Hawtwesell, appeared personally, but no memorandum of their having complied with the injunction or the contrary stands opposite to their names. Probably they were persons of acknowledged learning.

George Gray, curate of St. John's in Newcastle, appeared, but exhibited no account of his compliance with the Monition, either perfectly or imperfectly. The Chancellor, in consequence, pronounced him contumacious, reserving his punishment till the Michaelmas synod.

Thomas Wilkinson, vicar of Biwell Peter, had fled (fugam fecit).

The curate of Cramlington did not appear at all. Anthony Watson, vicar of Alston, Richard Marshall, vicar of Corbridge, Anthony Barroo, curate of Bellingham, and Edward Thompson, curate of Slaley, are marked "Absent," no cause being assigned. Opposite to the name of John Douglas, a Scotchman, curate of Lambley, stands the memorandum, "Note, that M^r Gerarde Lowther saithe, that they ought not to appeare." Robert Teasdall, rector of Knaresdall, and George Cowper, curate of Whittonstall, were excused on account of illness. Arthur Shaftoe, vicar of Challerton,¹ Robert Cuthbert, rector

¹ On the 30th of June preceeding, the Bishop, "in his dyninge chamber at Awkelande," had called before him Arthur Shaftoe to exhibit his qualification, dispensation, or other documents, for holding the two livings of Stamfordham and Chollerton. Shaftoe appeared, and exhibited a dispensation from Cardinal

CHANCEL- of Simondburne, and William Strotter, a Scotchman, curate of LOR'S Shotley, had not been cited.
 Visitation,
 July 1578.

The vicarage of Newcastle,¹ the curacies of Seaton Dalavell, Dissington and Birtley, and the rectory of Whitfield were vacant. The church of Stamfordham had neither vicar nor curate.

GENERAL CHAPTER, held in the church of St. Nicholas in Durham, on Tuesday, the 22nd day of July 1578, before the Venerable Robert Swifte, Vicar General and Official Principal, in the presence of Gilbert Spence, Notary Public, for the wards of Chester and Easington.

The churchwardens of each parish appeared.

GOSPEL OF ST. MATTHEW. The task performed by Charles Moberley, vicar of St. Oswald's,² Michael Pattonson, curate of St. Margaret's, Thomas Martin, curate of Lamesley, William Bramall, curate of Whitbarne, George Wrightson, curate of Whikeham, Giles Widowes, curate of Chester, John Grinwell, rector of Edmundbiers, Laurence Pilkington, curate of Witton Gilbert and rector of Kymblesworth, Jasper Hop-

Pole, the nuncio of the Pope, during the reign of Queen Mary, dated on the 31st Aug. 1556, which the Bishop refused to admit, and declared Stamfordham to be vacant. — Proceedings in the Act Book. Shafto soon, however, appears again, holding both the benefices. His Will is dated on the 30th of January 1581-2, and he leaves considerable legacies in land, &c. to John and Robert Shafto, the sons of Jane Jobson. It is probable that, like Dr. William Bennett above-mentioned [p. 48], having conformed to the reformed religion, and having married, he nevertheless hesitated to call his wife by his own name. No books are mentioned in his Inventory.

¹ John Macbray had resigned his vicarage of Newcastle in the Galilee of Durham Cathedral before the Bishop sitting in person in visitation, on the 8th April preceding. He held at the same time the vicarage of Billingham; and in the latter cure there had been proved against him a neglect of duty, the particulars of which will appear in the sequel. He has already been mentioned in no very favourable way in an extract from the works of Dr. Thomas Jackson, and a final note will be appended to his name hereafter. He soon became repossessed of the vicarage of Newcastle.

² "Charles Moberley, vicar of St. Oswald's in Durham, being a grave and discreet man, was buried the x. day of February [1592-3], being of the age of lx. years, to whom the Eternal God send a joyful resurrection, and to bee of his elect children in Christ Jesus his Saviour. Amen."—Register of St. Oswald.

pringle, curate of Jarro, Thomas Meslett, curate of St. Hild's, Christopher Grene, curate of St. Nicholas in Durham and of St. Mary Magdalene in Gilligate, Robert Prentize, curate of St. Giles, Robert Morrowe, vicar of Pittington, Dionisius Brerel-clif, curate of Houghton le Springe, although he had only just come to the curacy, Robert Foyster, vicar of Dalton, Richard Jackson, curate of Esington, William Wood, curate of Kello.

CHANCEL-
LOR'S
Visitation,
July 1573.

The task imperfectly performed by Richard Milner, curate of Lanchester and Eshe, John Graunger, curate of Medomsley, and George Gibson, curate of Castle Eden. Allowed till the Michaelmas synod.

Miles Watmawge, curate of Mugleswicke, Richard Stevenson, curate of Hunstanworth, and William Fuister, curate of Bishop Warmouth, had utterly neglected the monicion. They were admonished to be prepared at the Michaelmas synod, and Stevenson was threatened with excommunication.

Anthony Garfurthe, rector of Washington, M^r Leonard Pilkington, rector of Whitbarne, M^r William Hodgeson, rector of Gateshead, M^r James Fernyside, rector of Whikham, and M^r John Pilkington, rector of Esington, appeared, but no mention is made of their compliance with the monicion or the contrary. They were probably excused on account of their proficiency in learning.

M^r Richard Faweett, rector of Boldon, did not appear, and no excuse is assigned.

Anthony Garfurthe, rector of Washington, John Marshe, curate of Boldon, and Edward Jeffrayson, curate of Riton, had only lately been appointed to their respective cures, and had not had time to attend to the task. George Browne, curate of Chester le Strete, Barnard Gilpinge, rector of Houghton in le Springe, M^r Adam Hallidaie, rector of Bishop Warmoth, and Thomas Easterly, vicar of Scham, were excused. Robert Dawson, curate of Tanfeild, William Reiseley, curate of Monk Warmowth, Robert Claxton, master of the Hospital at Gateshead, and M^r William Bennett, vicar of Kello, were sick or infirm. Francis Brakenburie, curate of Croxdail, was in gaol (in carcere).

The benefices of St. Mary in the North Bailey, St. Mary in South Bailey, Munckchesleden and Trindon, were vacant.

CHANCEL-
LOR'S
Visitation,
July 1578.

GENERAL CHAPTER, held in the parish church of Heighington, on Wednesday, the 23rd of July 1578, before the Venerable Robert Swifte, Vicar General and Official Principal, in the presence of Gilbert Spence, Notary Public.

DARLINGTON AND STOCKETON WARDES.

Churchwardens appear.

GOSPEL OF ST. MATTHEW. The task performed by Barnard Meburne, curate of Cockefeilde, Thomas Rivington, curate of Winston, Ralph Smith, curate of Gaynefurth, Cuthbert Bradley, curate of Barnardcastle, Matthew Copperthwaite, curate of Whorleton, Ralph Dickon, assistant curate of Darlington, Robert Sclaiter, curate of Haughton, Thomas Grenehop, curate of Stanhop in Wardell, John Robson, curate of Awkeland St. Andrew, William Melmerby, vicar of Merington, Thomas Cocke, curate of Branspeth, Galfrid Marley, curate of Aiclif, Henry Wandles, curate of Harte, Robert Sugget, deacon of Elwicke, George Wynter, vicar of Gretenham, Robert Hutchenson, vicar of Grindon, John Nicholson, curate of Sadbury, Thomas Blenkinson, curate of Norton (reddidit compotum utrumque, perhaps in both Latin and English), Robert Blaxton, rector of Elton, Robert Richardson, rector of Readmarshall, George Tayliour, rector of Hurworth, Thomas Blaxton, rector of Dynsdaill.

Imperfectly performed by James Hobson, curate of Eggles-ton, Anthony Hopper, curate of Heighington, John Martyn, curate of Sedgefeild and Elmeden, and John Manwell, a Scotchman, curate of Wolveston. Respited to the Michaelmas synod.

Utterly neglected by James Maynerd, curate of Middleton in Teasdale, William Caise, curate of Awkeland St. Helen's, Robert Toys, deacon of Harthilpole, Thomas Middleton, vicar of Bishop Middleham, James Orpyn, rector of Middleton George. Admonished and threatened.

Mr Robert Dixon, rector of Cockefeilde and curate of Staindrop, Mr Henry Nanton, vicar of Gaynefurth, Mr Richard Wheaton, vicar of Conselif, Mr John Barnes, rector of Haughton, Mr Thomas Burton, rector of Stanhop in Wardell, Mr

Edward Banks, rector of Wolsingham and Longnewton, Mr George Clif, rector of Branspeth and Elwieke, Mr William Hardinge, vicar of Harle and Heighington, Mr Robert Swifte (the chancellor), rector of Sedgfeild, Mr John Magbrey, vicar of Billingham, and Richard Marshall, rector of Stainton in le Strete, appeared personally, but no memorandum is affixed to their names respecting the task. Their acknowledged learning perhaps excused them. The 'Mr' prefixed to their names indicates that they were graduates.

CHANCELLOR'S
Visitation,
July 1578.

Robert Wilkinson, curate of Witton super Weare, did not appear at all. Mr Leonard Pilkington, rector of Middleton in Teasdaill, Thomas Man, curate of Escombe, and Thomas Wall, vicar of Busshopton, were excused. John Hutchenson, assistant at Standrop, Richard Ryvington, rector of Wynston, Michael Horne, curate of St. John's in Wardell, Mr William Bennett, vicar of Aicliff, Robert Crawfurth, curate of Whitworth, Mr Philip Hatherley, vicar of Stranton, Mr John Rand, vicar of Norton, Edward Conyers, curate of Longnewton, and Francis Trowlope, vicar of Sokeburne, were sick or infirm. John Ducket, curate of Denton, James Thorneton, vicar of Darlington, and Mr Robert Bellamy, rector of Egleselif, were not cited.

The benefices of Hamsterley, Stoketon, and the assistant curacies of Wolsingham, Billingham, and Egleselif were vacant.

GENERAL CHAPTER, held at Morpeth in the chapel there, on the 29th of July 1578, before the Venerable Mr Henry Dethicke, Master of Arts and Bachelor of Laws, Surrogate of the Venerable Mr Robert Swift, Vicar-General and Official Principal, in the presence of Gilbert Spence, Notary Publick for the Deanery of Morpeth.

Churchwardens included.

GOSPEL OF ST. MATTHEW. Task performed by Thomas Middleton, curate of Morpeth, Henry Duxfeild, rector of Melton and vicar of Bolam, Christopher Thoraby, vicar of Stanington, John Wood, curate of Harteburne, John Barkar, curate of Cammo with Harterton, Ralph Graye, vicar of Whelpington,

Nicholas Ridley, curate of Hebburne, John Lyghton, curate of Chivington, and Robert Lighton, vicar of Horseley.

Imperfectly performed by Robert Grinwell, vicar of Bedlington, William Harte, vicar of Midfurthe, and Alexander Lighton, curate of Whalton. Admonished to be prepared against the Michaelmas synod.

No account of the task given by Thomas Wray, curate of Ulgham, Thomas Smythe, curate of Netherwitton, William Hall, rector of Elsdon, and Clement Cockeson, his curate. To be delivered at the Michaelmas synod.

Mr Thomas Warwicke, rector of Morpeth, Mr Richard Hancocke, vicar of Harteburne, and Mr Thomas Handley, vicar of Woodhorne, appear to have been excused on account of their learning.

John Scott, alias Clerke, curate of Withrington, made no appearance; Edward Bedome, deacon of Horton, had only lately come to his cure, and Bartholomew Barkeley, rector of Whalton, is reported infirm.

No remark is made opposite to the chapel of Thorneton. At Bothall there was neither rector nor curate; no vicar, curate, nor churchwardens at Kirkeharle, and no curate nor churchwardens at Corsenside. A pen is drawn through the chapel of Allenton. The chapels of Belsay and Newbigginge are stated to have no curate.

GENERAL CHAPTER, held in the parish church of Alnwick, on the 30th day of July 1578, before the Venerable Mr Henry Dethicke, Surrogate and Deputy of the Venerable Mr Robert Swifte, Vicar Generall and Official Principal, for the Deaneries of Alnewicke and Balmebroughe with Barwicke.

Churchwardens as usual.

THE GOSPEL OF ST. MATTHEW. Task duly performed by John Ladyman, vicar of Shilbottle, Thomas Davyson, vicar of [Long] Houghton, Richard Warrinell, vicar of Edlingham, William Sorroby, curate of Rothbury, Cuthbert Anderson, curate of Alnwick, John Naysmyth, curate of Balmebrough, Edward Colson, vicar of Chatton, John Frere, curate of Dodington, Robert Watson, curate of Fourde, Patrick Feneche, a Scotchman, curate of Cornell, Robert Baikar, vicar of Norham, and James Forster, curate of Holy Island.

Task imperfectly performed by William Hearon, vicar of Aleham, Roger Cockeson, vicar of Branxton, and Thomas Savage, curate of Lowick. Admonished to be prepared at the Michaelmas synod.

CHANCEL

No account of task given by Christopher Pereson, curate of Howick, Robert Welesme, curate of Renington, George Pattison, curate of Rocke, Luke Davison, curate of Eglington, Richard Satterthwaite, vicar of Whittingham, Ralph Richardson, curate of Ilderton, John Earsdon, curate of Framlington, John Hall, vicar of Wuller, Randall Dod, curate of [Kirk] Newton, Nicholas Bonmyngton, curate of Twedmouth, and Laurence Donkyn,¹ curate of Ancrofte. Respited till the Michaelmas synod.

Thomas Clerke, vicar of Felton, Thomas Hanley, vicar of Warkeworth (and Woodhorne), Mr Thomas Benyon, vicar of Emelton, Thomas Bennet, vicar of Eglington, George Arnet, curate of Bewicke, John Hutchinson, curate of Angram, Peter alias Patrick Broke, curate of Luckar, appeared, but no remark is made with respect to the task.

Edward Rasshall, curate of Warkeworth, Robert Copperthwaite, vicar of Ellingham, John Wissharde, curate of Brandon, are stated not to have appeared at all. Opposite to the name of Mr Francis Bunny, rector of Howicke, there is no memorandum either of appearance or the contrary. It must be remembered that he held Rock in right of his archdeaconry of Northumberland. Andrew Wright, a Scotchman, curate of Westilburne, was not cited.

The excused were Barnard Vincent, rector of Angram, Thomas Talentire, rector of Rothebury, Ralph Wake, curate of Tuggell, Mr Thomas Clerke, rector of Fourde and vicar of Berwicke, and George Johnson, curate of Kilo.

The sick or infirm were, George Levinston, a Scotchman, curate of Allanton, John Gray, vicar of Chillingham, Roger Spence, curate of Ailemouth, an old man, Edmund Willy, curate of Brenkeburne, an old man, Richard Lee, curate of Carrame.

The chapel of Charleton had no curate, nor wardens. The chapel of Bolton no curate, no wardens. The chapel of Hal-listone no curate. Christopher Watson was the sequestrator and curate of Lesbury. At Brenkeburne no wardens. At Beadnell neither curate nor wardens. At Lucker no wardens. At Belfurth no curate. At Fenton neither curate nor wardens. The vicarage of Kirknewton vacant. No wardens at Fourde.

The following abstract with respect to the performance of the enjoined task, the Gospel of St. Matthew, which, it must be remembered, was the same in both counties, appears to denote a marked superiority in learning on the part of the clergy of Durham over their brethren in Northumberland.

In Northumberland, of the ninety-nine persons cited to the Visitation seventy-three appeared, and of these twenty-three only had complied with the task. It was imperfectly performed by twenty-two, and it was utterly neglected by sixteen. Twelve who attended appear to have been excused the task on account of their learning. Ten did not attend at all, no reason being assigned; and about sixteen were absent, from old age or other satisfactory reasons. Six benefices or curacies were vacant.

In Durham ninety-six were cited. Seventy-one appeared. Task performed by thirty-nine, imperfectly performed by seven. Utterly unheeded by eight. Excused on account of their character for learning, seventeen. Non-attendants, no reason assigned, two. Excused attendance from old age, &c. twenty. In gaol, one. Vacant benefices or curacies, nine.

But in other respects also the Durham call, and its results, manifest a more wholesome state of things than in Northumberland, which a careful eye will readily observe.

The number of clergy in the two counties amounted then to about two hundred. In the last Visitation of the Bishop of Durham (1849) the number was three hundred and sixty-eight. The number of those who at the former period held more than one benefice in the diocese, in most instances the best, many of them with stalls in the cathedral to boot, was twelve.

Moniti fuerunt omnes superius et prius specificati et nominati ad personaliter interessendum in hoc Capitulo Generali, et totus Clerus prædictus moniti fuerunt ad perlegendum et discendum totum Evangelium secundum Mattheum, citra hunc diem, et ad reddendum compotum de contentis seperialium capitulorum dicti Evangelii, qui callent, Latina lingua, qui non, materna lingua, aut memoriter. Quibus die et loco, præconizatis omnibus et singulis Rectoribus, Vicariis, Curatis, Diaconis, Lectoribus et Gardianis, dominus in primis omnes non comparentes pronunciavit contumaces, et ipsos excommunicavit in scriptis. Et omnes personaliter comparentes monuit non recedere antequam fuerint licentiati et ad ulteriora fuerit processum. Deinde, perlectis Monicionibus et Injunctionibus Sinodalibus dicti Reverendi Patris Dunelmensis Episcopi, dominus monuit omnes (ut præfertur) comparentes hujusmodi Monicionibus et Injunctionibus per omnia obtemperare facere et observare, et etiam totum Clerum prædictum comparentem monuit diligenter sua præbere studia ad perlegendum et ita discendum totum Evangelium secundum Marcum, ita quod compotum et ratiocinium de contentis seperialium capitulorum dicti Evangelii, Latina lingua, qui eam callent, qui non, materna lingua, aut memoriter, in proximo Capitulo Generali, mense Januarii proxime tenendo reddere valeant cum seperialiter fuerint examinati per dominum Judicem antedictum; et monuit eos omnes, hoc die comparentes, ad tunc interessendum, etc. Et sic, finita exhortacione, dominus ipsos recedere licentiavit.

IN SEPTEMBER 1578.

CHANCELLOR'S
Visitation,
Sept. 1578.

DIE Martis, videlicet xxx. die mensis Septembris, anno Domini millesimo quingentesimo septuagesimo octavo, loco Consistoriali infra Galeleam Ecclesiæ Cathedralis Dunelmensis, coram Venerabili viro magistro Roberto Swifte, in utroque jure Baccalaureo, Reverendi in Christo Patris et domini domini Richardi Divina Providentia Dunelmensis Episcopi Vicario in Spiritualibus Generali et Officiali Principali, in presentia mei, Gilberti Spence, notarii publici, &c.

Quibus die et loco, dictus magister Robertus Swifte, Officialis, post finitam concionem sinodalem more solito, mandavit totum Clerum predictum præconizari, quo publice præconizato, idem omnibus tunc ibidem interessentibus Clericis divinam quandam exhortacionem et requisicionem Sinodalem fecit et impertivit, præcipue suas curas et officia pastoralia concernentes. Et, inter cætera, eis intimavit quod Reverendus in Christo Pater, Richardus Dunelmensis Episcopus, officium suum pastorale attentius et majore cum sedulitate exequi, gregem suum sibi a Deo creditum, quantum fieri poterit, Divino depasci pabulo maxime cupiens, quosdam Clericos Divinis magis doctiores requisivit tot concionari sermones, hoc sequente anno, atque talibus modo et locis quot et qualibus inferius sunt conscripti et assignati. Qui quidem Clerici (ut præfertur) cæteris doctiores, hujusmodi concionari sermones valde se reputaverunt contenti. Unde idem magister Robertus Swifte, ut latius manifestaret omnibus sic interessentibus, qui concionari assignantur, quibus locis ac quot sermones in hoc jam proxime sequente anno concionari debeant, schedulam quandam in papiro scriptam, in se continentem nomina non solum concionatorum hujusmodi verum etiam sermonum numerum et quibus locis seperaliter et respective sic concionari oportet, in loco quodam publico tunc ibidem infra Galeleam dictæ Ecclesiæ Cathedralis Dunelmensis affligi mandavit.

Houghton le Spring (fourth ed. 1636, p. 190), the name of John Barnes has been inserted in the list of Spiritual Chancellors of the Diocese of Durham by Hutchinson and Surtees, because to him in that capacity the biographer ascribes the maladministration which led to Gilpin's memorable sermon at Chester le Street. It is, however, most certain, that Barnes never held that appointment. He upon one occasion, in June 1584, as we shall see hereafter, acted as one of the commissioners in the Bishop's Visitation in that year, but Gilpin had died on the 4th of March preceding.

IN JANUARY 1578-9.

CHANCELLOR'S
Visitation,
Jan. 1578-9.

GENERAL CHAPTER, held in the church of St. Nicholas in Newcastle upon Monday, the 19th of January 1578-9, before the Venerable Thomas Burton, LL.B.,¹ Vicar General and Official Principal of the Reverend Father in Christ and lord, the lord Richard, by Divine Providence Bishop of Durham, in the presence of me, Gilbert Spence, notary public, &c.

DEANERIES OF NEWCASTLE AND CORBRIDGE.

Mr Magbray, vicar of Newcastle, is assigned to preach.

[Throughout the whole of this Visitation, in whatever deanery or ward of the Diocese, no mention is made of the task enjoined during the summer Visitation of 1578, which was to be accounted for at the present time.

The attendance of the clergy, on the contrary, in these two deaneries, was as follows, accompanied by an occasional extract from the Visitation Roll of personal or local interest.]

The clergy who attended were, Mr. John Magbray, vicar of Newcastle and the preacher at the chapter; Thomas Kay, his curate; Cuthbert Ewbancke, curate of All Saints; George Gray, curate of St. John's; Bartholomew Cowgherham, curate of St. Andrews; Umfrey Sicomer, curate of South Gosfarth and North Gosfarth; Christofer Palmer, curate of Cramlington; John Killingworthe, vicar of Benton; John Knightley, vicar of Tynemouth; Thomas Anderson, curate of Earsdon; Richard Ray, vicar of Wallesende; Richard Hancocke, vicar of Pontelande; John Cornefurthe, vicar of Newburne; Henry ¹ Appointed Vicar-General and Official Principal by patent, dated on the 5th of December preceeding, on which day Robert Swifte, the former Chancellor, was inhibited from any further exercise of the office.—Act Book. Burton was Rector of Stanhope, and soon afterwards Vicar of Merrington. He was created Doctor of Laws in 1581, and resigned his chancellorship in 1582.

Wilson, curate of Heddon-super-le-Wall. And in the deanery of Corbridge, William Assheton, vicar of Biwell Andrewe; William Teasdaill, vicar of Alston; John Hodgson, curate of Garrigill; Hugh Walles, rector of Kirkehaughe; Edward Trowtebecke, rector of Whitfeilde; Martin Liddaill, curate of Haidon; Christopher Ridley, curate of Hawtwesell.

awkland the Bishop instituted Humfrey Grene to the vicarage of Long Horseley, upon letters patent from the Queen. Mem. (in the margin): there was a jus patronatus sat upon this benefice upon the last vacancie: the right honorable Henrie Erle of Northumberland and St John Forster wer the parties that severallie maid title; and upon the inquisition yt was found to then to belong to nether partie. Immediatelic after Humphraie Grene procured the said presentacion from her Majestie, and after did resigne the said vicaridg, &c., as hereafter will appeare, doubting of his right, for that the Erle prosequuted the triall, &c.—Reg. Barnes, f. 15.

The book from which the above extracts are made (Vis. 1577 to 1586) contains a full account of the Visitations of the Chancellor till the latter year, with notices also of his proceedings at the corresponding half-yearly Visitations, to which the Clergy do not appear to have been cited. The annual task, if any such was imposed, is not referred to, but in July 1586 there is an entry as follows: “Epistolam Sancti Judæ juniores clerici memoriter discant erga proximam synodum.” The Editor lately purchased in London the Almanack of Dr. Colmore, the Chancellor, for the year 1590, by “Gabriel Frende, student in Phisicke and Astrologie,” which contains numerous manuscript notes of the movements of its owner, in connection with his office and the discharge of his duties in various parts of the diocese. In February of that year he appears to have held courts at Corbridge, Ponteland, Morpeth, Balmbrighe and Alnwick, probably for the proving of wills, &c. On the 11th of June he went “to London for the Church business,” and returned home on the 23rd of July.

VISITATION BY COMMISSIONERS

IN 1584.

Visitatio Ordinaria et Diocesana, 1584.

Visitation
by COMMISSIONERS.
1584.

THE commissioners for this Visitation were Clement Colmore, LL.D. Vicar-General and Official Principal,¹ Ralph Tunstall, S.T.B. Archdeacon of Northumberland, and John Barnes, minister of the word of God and preacher. Thomas Chaytor, notary public.

15 June 1584. In the church of St. Nicholas in Newcastle. The commissioners Colmore and Tunstall visit the Master or Keeper of the Hospital of the Blessed Mary the Virgin, called West Spitle, the Master of the Hospital of the Mazendew, the Master of the Hospital of Mary Magdalen, and the Master of the Chapel upon the Bridge in Newcastle, with their members.

Wednesday, 17 June 1584. Commissioner Barnes holds his Visitation in the church of Alnwick for the Deaneries of Alnwick and Balmbrough, and the town of Barwicke upon Tweed.

Friday, 19 June 1584. In the church of Corbridge. The three commissioners visit the Deanery of Corbridge.

Monday, 22 June 1584. At Newcastle, Dr. Colmore and Thomas Burton, LL.D. (who appears to have been appointed a commissioner) visit the Deanery of Newcastle and Morpeth.

Wednesday, 15 July 1584, between the hours of nine and eleven A.M. Dr. Colmore holds his court in the chapel of the Castle of Stockton, and excommunicates, in the greater excommunication, for non-appearance when called upon the above day, Robert Garrett, vicar of Eglington, Thomas Warwick, rector of Morpeth, and Ralph Patteson, master of the West Spittle. The punishment of George Bartram, master of the chapel at the end of Tyne Bridge, Robert Midford, master of the Hospital of Mary Magdalen, and Martin Halliman, master of the Hospital of Masondew, who also had made no appearance to a citation against them, is reserved till the afternoon of the same day, when, between the hours of one and three, the two latter having appeared, are commanded to repair to the Queen's Commissioners at Stockton on the 3rd of August following, to exhibit the Foundations, Ordinations, Statutes and Endowments of their respective hospitals. James Bartram, the son of the master of the chapel on the Bridge, proves his father's illness, and he also is referred to the Queen's Commissioners.

1587. 1587. There are entries at the end of the book, proving that another Ordinary Visitation was contemplated by the Bishop in this year, to begin in the Galilee with the Visitation of the Dean and Chapter of Durham, on Monday, the 12th of June, but the book terminates abruptly. The Bishop died on the 24th day of August following.

BARNARDCASTLE.

Examinacio gardianorum ecclesiæ parochialis sive capellæ de Barnard Castell super libello ex officio adversus eodem judicialiter proposito.

Thomas Vinte, of Westwike, husbandman, aged 52 years, one of the churchwardens.

He belevith that Thomas Clark, libellat, by the space of a yere or 2 last past, haith bein a preist or curat or minister within the said church of Barnard Castell, and allowed ther by the Bushop of Durham and M^r Stevenson, vicar of the said church or chapell, and to this deponents knowlege haith used hym self honestly ther by the tyme aforesaid.

He saith, that the tyme libellat Thomas Clarke came to the church of Barnardcastell, meaning to doo service, and the church doores was kept shoot all that day, unto about 4 or 5 of the cloke at after noone, and no morning nor eavoninge praier said that day.

He saith, that he this examine, Thomas Wilson and Richerd Sanderson, bying by chanch in the market place of Barnardcastell, about 11 or 12 of the cloke, the Satterday byfore, mett with Thomas Rowlandson, the baliffe of Barnardcastell, who told them that they of Whorleton bringinge a coorse thither the day byfore were offendyd, bicaus the curat of Barnardcastell was not at home to burie ytt, who said to this examine and his fellowes that they kept the church doore loked untill some reformation were hadd, and hard after the balyf and they were partyd they mett with Lancelott Peir-son and William Bowswell, who lykewise thought yt was the best way to kepe the doores shutt; wherupon they metyng the wench of one John Hird, the clarks doughter, willyd hyr to fett them the key of the church doore, and so she dyd, and thei toke yt of hir and kept yt in Thomas Wilson's house that night and the next day, so that none went in unto the tyme of 4 or 5 of the cloke at afternoone.

Detections;
Comperts;
Injunctions.

He saith, that he was occupyed that morninge in the nowght fair, and that none came or send to hym for the said key; and further he cannott depose; but he hard saye that M^r Myddleton and other parishioners ther was at the said church doore that morning.

He saith, that they thre was put into the tolleboyth by S^r Georg Bowes and M^r Myddleton, upon Magdalens day and the Sondag after, but not at the syttinge of any justices of ooyer and determiner or any assise.

Signum + Thomæ Vynt.

Richard Sanderson, of Barnard castell, laboringman, aged 60 years, another of the churchwardens.

He saith, that ther is one Thomas Clark ther which is ther curat or minister in the said church, and so haith bein this yer or 2 last past, but whither he be preist or no, or admitt by my Lorde of Durham, he cannott depose, thinking that ther vicar articulat haith admitted hym, and saith by all the tyme above-said he haith doon his service reverently, savinge that he did not at all crosse the children in the foorhed when he christened them, and that he married one Whorton of Eggleston in the parish of Myddleton and Jane Sawyer, of the parish of Startfurth, upon the night, about Candlemas last at what tyme ther horses was sett in the church by the spaic of the said mariadge; and bothe the said married folkes and ther compeny wer ryddyn away longe byfore day. Examined de causa scientiæ he saith, he hard the clark say so, and he saith also, that he hard that the saide Thomas Clarke dyd marye an other cupple that came from Startfurth neither of which was of Barnard castell parish; and he haith hard further, that he refused to christen one John Cooks of Barnard castell child upon a worke day, wher he had christened others that was welthy mens children; upon the which thyngs this examinee thinks the said curet haith not doone his dewtie.

Detections; He saith, that he saw hym not ther at the tyme articulate, Comperts; but the common bruyt ys that he, the said Thomas, was ther Injunctions. to doo servie, the doores being shutt.

He saith, that Thomas Vynt, Thomas Wilson and this examine, had the key by the meanes followinge, for Thomas Rowlandson, the baliff, pleaned to Wilson and he to this examine, for buringe of a childe of Worleton, and thei 2 coming down the streit met with Thomas Vint, and they three metinge with Peirson and Bowswell, and the said baliff with all gave them this reid to shutt up the church doores, and thereupon this examine went for the key of the said church and gatt yt nott; and after that came to them the clarks wench, by occasion wherof the said church doores was shutt up unto the next day at 4 or 5 of the cloke, so that no morning or eveninge praier was said or song.

Signum + Ricardi Sanderson.

Thomas Wilson, of Barnard castell, chapman alias draper, aged 31 years.

He saith, that he doubtith whither he be a lawful mynister or preist or nott, though he belyvith he haith bene ther thre yeres, and he belivith that he is admittyd to ther by th'ordynarye and the vicar, articulate; and as for his usuadge ther he thinks that somme tyme he haith used hymself laudable and somme tyme nott; for the said Thomas Clarke, as he belyvith, maid 2 unlawfull mariadges sence Candlemas laste, mariing one William Warton, of Eggleston parish, and Jannet Sayer, of Startfurth parish, by thre of the cloke in the morninge, about Fastens last; and an unknowen tynkler with a girle of 12 yere olde, neither being of that parish; and the said William Warton, being askede in the church in Startfurth and Eggleston after thei wer married: and for 2s. 6d. married the tynkler, when as the curat of Stratfurth had refused to mary hym; and that both the said Warton and Janet Sayer was handfest or betrowed with others. And in chirstening of the children the said Clarke neglectyth or useth not to crosse the children in the forehead; and that he also refused the last Rogacion dayes to goo or walke the perambulacion of their parish, according to the Quenes injunctions, and he refused to christen one John Cooke childe unlesse the said Cooke wold swere that yt wolde dye, albeyt he upon the workday christened this examine's childe, John Singleton, George Hog and Ninian Dyrum, with others. And he also refused to minister the Communion to one John Shaw, beinge syke and havinge a competent nombre to receyve with hym, and he was also a weik away before Magdalen day last, at which tyme ther was 2 coorses to be buried; and furthe he knoweth nott.

He belivith by report that the Clerk was ther to say servie, but he knowith that the daies libellat the church doores was kepte shutt at tyme of service, and they were kept shutt frome two of the cloke upon Satterday unto Sunday at fyve of the cloke at night.

He saith, that dyvers of the parish aforesaid, compleyninge that the curat was not at home to burye the 2 coorses, he this examine Sanderson and Vint enformed the bayliff, Thomas Rolandson, James Dent, Lansselot Peirson, William Bowswell, being all of the 24 of the parishe, who al thought yt wer good to shutt up the doores of the curett until such thinges as was amis wer reformed, which thinge the said this examine, Sanderson and Vynt, dyd in deid. Wherupon they first sent Richard Sanderson for the key, and gat yt nott; and then the clarks wenche brought yt to them, and yt was kept in this examine's house unto Sunday at fyve of the cloke, at which tyme the clarke came for yt to christen one of M^r Bainbridge's childe, notwithstanding M^r Myddleton, upon Sunday in the morning, sent one John Hirde for the church wardens, and or they to hym he was goone from the church to his mothers house, and he refused to deill in that.

He saith, that thre churchwdens wer nott punished by the justices of ooyer and determiner, but was put in the tolboith by S^r George Bowes and the said M^r Myddleton.

XVI. The Will of James Nelson, of Ryton, Clerk.

In the name of God, Amen. The xxiiijth day of November, 1596, I, James Nelson, of Ryton, within the countye pallantyne of Durham, Minister, being of my bodye sounde and healthfull, and of my mynde and remembraunce perfect, God be therefore praysed, do with myne owne hande write, and of my selfe make and constitute this my last Will and Testament in manner and forme followinge: viz. first, I do betake my soule into the mercifull hand of Almighty God, my Creator, having my full and wholl trust to be saved by the death, passion, and pretious bloodsheadinge of Jesus Christ, my only Redeemer; and my body to be buried within Ryton church-yarde. Also, I geve and bequith all such goodes as I am at this present, or ought of right before my disisease to be possessed upon, unto Elyoner my wif, and to the childe in her wombe, makinge them my full, wholl, and perfect executors, if so be that she survive me, recover and come to her perfect health, after this sicknes wherwith she is now visited, and shall approve this my last Will and Testament. But if it shall please God by this sickness to call her to His mercy, or at any tyme before He shall call me out of this miserable world, if then our foresaid childe shall lyve, I geve all my said goodes unto my said childe, making it my full, wholl, and lawfull executor, desiringe my good M^r Frauncis Bunny, and the Ordinary before whom this my Testament and last Will shalbe approved to committ the tuicion of my said childe to whom by their discretions they shall thinke most convenient for that purpose. But if my said wif and childe shall both be diseazed before this Will be approved, then I geve unto my brother Cuthbart Nelson, of Great Salkelde, a blacke belde whye, which is with my father in lawe, William Patteson of Wynlawton, which whye Elyoner Rippeth, his wives daughter (for so was then her name), who is now my wif, bought of him for xvjs., of which somme I payed xijs., and the other iijs. he then ought the said Elyoner, and did allow the same in the pryce of the said whye. Also I geve and bequithe unto Issabell my sister, and to her children, all my goodes which before my mariage I was possessed of, that is to say, all my apparrell, all my bookes, a litle deske, and a brasen mortar, iron pestell, a paire of iron barres, with a paire of tonges and an iron porre. And finally, all the rest of my goodes above, not given and bequithed, my debts and funerall expences first therof taken and dischardged, I give and bequithe unto Margaret Rippeth, my wyves sister, whom I make full, wholl, and sole executrix of this my last Will and Testament; desiringe her to see the same in every respect to be fulfilled accordinge to the true sense and meaning therof. These witnesses [no witnesses]. By me, James Nelson, Clarke, Curate of Ryton.

The debts owinge and due to me, James Nelson above named, the day of the dait of this my said last Will:— In primis, M^r James Harrington, of Longsleadell within Kendall parishe, Gent., lijs. iiij*d.*, which about his affaires during the tyme of iiij. years and 3 quarters of a yeare I disbursed for him, of myne owne mony, and had sundry notes, subscribed with his owne hande, shewing how the same was at many sundry tymes disbursed, which notes I left with my brother, John Nelson, att what tyme as I went to M^r Clibburne (brother in lawe to the said M^r Harrington), being fledde to Cowlney, within a myle and a halfe of Norwyche, in Norfolke, being a recusant, who somtymes alone, and sometyme with other recusants for the space of fyve yeares, lacking a quarter, comming to Yewbarrey Hall, in Long Sleadell above named, where the said M^r Harrington dwelt, did at all tymes during his abode there dissuade me (beinge in trenthe yonge) from this true and undoubted true religion, which the Queenes Majestie and all her faithfull subiects do at this present, and I trust shall evermore, professe, unto that abhominable heresey of papacy, who together with such as he brought with him, but especially M^r James Laburne, that was afterwarde executed at Lancaster, the devill drawing, and the Lord God suffering it, perverte me unto that manifest idolatrye, all which, whether the said M^r Harrington was pryvy to I knowe not, but this I am sure of, that in the tyme of the dampe at Oxforde, when the judges Bell and Baram, with many justices, and others diseazed so fast, that it was thought to be the plague, wherfore M^r George Lancaster, my Cransier, sent me (being then about the age xvij. yeares), together with fyve more of the Queenes Colledge, into the country, to stay with our frynds during the tyme of the plague, that within lesse then a quarter of a yere after, at what tyme as I shoulde have retourned againe to Oxforde, my father, very wylling to streyne him self even still to continue my exhibition to his power, and I very desirous to apply my booke, nevertheles the said James Harrington, being my god-father, and landlorde not only to my poore father, but also to sundry other of my fryndes, so over ruled us, that he brought me with weping eyes (protesting rather to begge my meate in Oxforde if I shulde have had no one frinde to allowe me one penny there at that tyme to discontinue my studye and loose my tyme) before one M^r Perkin (as I remember), then official to the Bushop of Chester, and gott me a lycense to reede prayer in Longleadall Chappell, within Kendall parishe, durante beneplacito, where, when I had reade prayer about somme 3 or 4 yeares, and desired that I might with his favour enter into the Ministrye, he woulde never consent therto, but dehorted me therfro, parswading me that a chaunge of religion wolde comme, and then I were undone; and, moreover, when M^r Laburne had perverted me upon the Satterday, and brought me to like of his heresy, I toulde the said M^r Harrington that my conscience (forsooth) would not suffer me to reade the prayer upon the morow being Sunday, desiringe his advise for an excuse, he streightwaies willed me to feyne myself sicke, and to kepe my bedde that day, which I did, and the morow after, being Munday, he himself accompanying me almost two myles before day, telling me that he was very glad I had taken that coorse, conveyed me to Skelsmoore hall, where the said

Mr Laburne dwelleth. Item, the said Mr James Harrington oweth me more for his parte of my sawde [sic] or wages duringe the tyme that I served in the chappell above named, viz. 5 yeares lacking a quarter, after ciijs. per yeare, xixs. Item, more for xvij. yonge shepe, being twinters and hogges, which he bought of me for iijs. 4d. the heade, lvjs. viijd. [Proved 1597. A pen drawn through the whole of the narrative relative to Mr Harrington.]

INVENTORY dated 1596. His reperell, iijl. vjs. viijd.; a whye, xvjs.; a amry and ij. cethes, xs.; one cowe, xxs.; ij. brase botes and ij. panes, xs.; vj. bese of bovder doblers and ij. salt fates, and ij. candels stikes, vjs. viijd.; all his bookes, xiijs. iiijd. Somme total, vijl. ijs. viijd. — DEBTS that he did owe, lvjs. iiijd.; so remayneth, iijl. vjs. iiijd.

XVII. Testamentum et Inventarium Leonardi Pilkington, Prebendarii Ecclesiae Cathedralis Dunelm. defuncti. Probatum 8^o die Septembris 1599.

In the name of God, Amen. The xvjth day of November, in the yeare of our Lord God 1598, and in the fortieth yeare of the reigne of our Sovraigne Lady Queene Elizabeth, I, Leonarde Pilkington, Doctor of Divinitye, and one of the Prebendaries of Durham, of the Cathedrall Church of Christe and Blessed Marye the Virgin, sounde in minde and body, and also of good and perfecte memorye, praised be Almighty God, do make and declare this my last Will and Testamente in writeinge, revokeinge therebie, both in dead and lawe all and every other former Willes and Testaments, legacies and bequeastes, executors and supervisors, by me in anie wise before this tyme named, willed, and bequeathed. First, I commend my soule into thandes of God my Maker, hopeinge assuredlie, throughe the onlie meritte of Jesus Christ my Saviour, to be made partaker of life everlastinge, and my body to be buried in the Cathedrall Church of Durham aforesaid. Moreover, tuchinge my children, whom already in my life tyme I have advaunced and given them there portions, that is to say, first, for Barnaby Pilkington, my sonne and heire, I have alreadye matched him in maryage to his preferment att my costes and charges, and unto whom I have also given his dwellinge house in Whitbarne, with thappurtenaunes, with other sundrie copiehhold landes and tenements in Cleadon and Whitbarne aforesaid, in the county of Durham, with sundrye other giftes, amouteinge to six hundred poundes or thereabouts. And tuchinge Joseph Pilkington, my second sonne, upon whom likewise I have bestowed thre severall fermeholds or tenements lyinge in severall places within the county aforesaid, beside a certaine stocke and money, amouteinge in the wholl to fower hundredth poundes, att the leaste. And for my daughter Hutton, nowe wiffe to M^r Doctor Hutton, hir likewise have I advaunced in mariage to the said M^r Hutton, with whom I did give in mariage two hundredth poundes. And for my daughter Allice Laycocke, wiffe to M^r Frauncis Laycocke, whom likewise I did marye att my charge, and have already paid to hir father in lawe, old M^r Laycocke, cc*l*. in consideracion of the said mariage; which said severall portions so bestowed, given, paid, and allowed unto them, and every of them, my said fower children before named, as aforesaide, my will, mind, and full intente is, that the said porcions, gifts, graunts, and payments to every of them aforesaid, and allowed as aforesaid, shall stand, be, and remaine unto everie of them for there severall filiall portions, partes, and purperties of all my goodes, cattalls, and debtes, which they or anie of them, or anie other for them, or in anie of there names, may hereafter challenge, clame, or demaunde of anie of my goods, cattalls or debtes whatsoever that I nowe am possessed of, or which unto me by anie meanes are dewe and owen. And whereas I have heretofore likewise att my charge and by my onely meanes procured severall leases of one farmeholde or tenemente in Hedworth, within the county aforesaid, nowe in the occupation of one . . . Pattison, or his assignes, and of all the tieth corne cominge groweing and rineweinge in Harton, within the same county, to be conveyed unto Neimias Pilkington, my youngest sonne, and for his advauncement, as by the severall leases thereof to him already made more plainelie doth appeare, my will and meaninge is, that the same assurancing shall stande and be affectuall to the onelie benefitte of the said Neimias, my sonne, accordinge to the trewe intent and meaninge sett downe in the same writings. And I do by this my last Will certifie and confirme the same. And further, do will and demise all the said tenemente or farmeholde and tiethe aforesaid to my said sonne Neimias, and he to receive the rentes, issewes, and profitts thereof comminge after my decease, to his owne onelie proper use and behoof, for suche and the same estates abovementioned, and limited by the said conveyances, which I do give him by way of benevolence, over and besides other his bequestes and porcions to him given and bequeathed by me hereafter in this my last Will and Testamente, as followeth. Item, I further will that all such debtes and dewties as I do owe of right or of conscience to anie person or persons, be well and trowelie contented and paid by mine executors hereafter named, or els ordaine so for to be paid without anie delay or contradiction att such times when as the same of right shall be come dewe. And after my debtes paid and my funerall expences performed, I will that all my goodes, cattalls, and debtes shalbe divided into three equall partes; whereof I will that Jane, nowe my loveinge wiffe, shall have one full equall parte to hir owne personal use, in the name of hir purpertie, and reasoncable parte to hir dewe of all my goodes, cattalls, and debtes, after the laudable custome within the diocese of Durham used. And the seconde equall parte of all my said goodes, cattalls, and debtes whatsoever, I bequeath to the said Neimias, my youngest sonne, to be delivered unto him when he shall accomlishe and come to his lawfull aige of xxj. years. And if it fortune my said sonne Neimias to decease (as God defende) before he accomplish the said aige, and before that time be not maryed, nor anie will in writeinge by hime made in disposeinge the same otherwise, then I bequeath his parte so deceaseinge, as also my other legacies to him in this my last Will and Testamente bequeathed, to and amongst his brethren and sisters, which then shalbe liveinge, equallie to be divided amongst them. And nowe, uppon the greate good hope and loveinge affiaunce that I have, and truste to finde in my said wiffe, towards my said sonne Neimias, my will and minde is, that she my said wiffe shall have the custodie of the portion of my said youngest sonne, and of all the rentes, issewes, and profittes of all such landes, tenementes, and tiethes, which I att my onelie charge and by my meane and procuremente have heretofore caused to be alreadie assured and made unto the said Neimias my sonne, and in his name, as is aforesaide, untill he be of the full aige of xxj. yeares (if she my said wiffe do so longe live), if she firste finde sufficiente securitie to be bounde for the same unto my supervisors hereafter named, as they shall, and in reasonable sorte like of, for the paimente of his said poreious, bequestes, rentes, issewes and profitts accordnglie. And if she do finde no such suerties, or that she chaunceth to dye (as God defende) before he do accomplishe such aige, that then my will and minde is, that my said sonne Neimias shall make choice of his owne gardeane or tutor to have the custodie of the said portions, bequestes, rentes, issewes, and profittes accordnglie. Yet withall chargeinge him, upon my blesseinge, and the entiere love and affection, that I do beare him, that he yet make the same choice by and with thadvice and consente of my said supervisors, or of the one of them firste had for the doinge thereof, if thother of them be not then liveinge. And the thirde equall parte of all my said goodes, cattalls, and debtes I reserve unto my executors hereafter named, therewith to performe my legacies and bequestes hereafter specified, that is to witt, first, I give and bequeath to all the children of my daughter, Alice Laycocke, both sonnes and daughters, xl., to be divided equallie amongste them. Also I give to all the sonnes of my brother, M^r John Pilkington, xvj., to be also divided equallie amongst them. Item, I do give to the Reverend Father in God, my Lord of Durham that now is, one ryall in gold for a token; and to my sonnes Barnabie and Joseph Pilkington, unto either of them, xxs. a-peece; and more to my said sonne Barnabie, my best geldinge; and to my daughter Huttons two daughters, to either of them a good milch cowe, or in liewe thereof a why with calf unto either of them; and to hir sonne xxs. for a remembraunce; and to my said daughter Alice and my daughter Hutton, to either of them a milch cowe a-peece. Also I do give to every of my men servants in my house att the day of my death twentie shillinge a-peece, if they use themselves diligentlie and honestlie towards my said wiffe, so longe as they remaine with hir as my servaunts after my death. Also I devise my clocke, beinge in my gallery att my house in Durham, to my said wiffe, to have the use and occupation thereof duringe hir life; and after hir decease, that my said sonne Neimias shall have the same to his owne use for ever. Also I do give more unto my said wiffe, all such goodes, chattalls, debtes, houshold stuffe, plaite and jewells whatsoever, which were hers when I did marye hir. And my will and mind is, that all the same shall remaine and be whollie and entierelie unto hir owne sole proper use and behoof, even as the same were hers before that I did so marye hir, anie thinge in this my last Will and Testamente mencioned or expressed to the contrarie in anie wise notwithstandinge. Nowe as tuchinge the poore: in so much as these worldlie goodes were given unto me that I should distribute some parte thereof to there necessitie, vidl^t, the poore, laime, blinde, and comfortless: therefore I will that there be distributed and given amongst the poore within the parishe of Whitburne, fyve poundes, and to the poore within the cittie of Durham, fyve poundes; and in Middleton parishe in Teasdall, amongst the poore there, fyve markes, by the discretion of my said wiffe, beinge one of my executors hereafter named. I thinke it also a deade of charitie and a comendable worke before God, to repaire the highwayes, that the people may travaill saifely without daunger, I therefore give to the mendinge of the high wayes about the citie of Durham, where the moste neid shall be, twenty nobles, to be imployed also by the discretion of my said wiffe. Also my will and minde is, that the residewe of all my goodes, cattalls, and debtes, after my debtes be paid, my funerall expences performed, and these my legacies contained in this my present Testamente fulfilled, I whollie give and bequeath to my said wiffe and to the said Neimias my youngest son, to be divided betwene them; and his portion thereof to be delivered unto him by my said wiffe, accordinge as I have above willed and declared, that other my bequestes unto him herein given should be delivered as is abovesaid, provided alwaies, that if it shall fortune anie question, ambiguitie, or doubt to arise betwene my said wiffe and my said sonne Neimias, or anie other my children clameinge anie benefitt by force of this my last Will and Testamente, that onelie the exposition, determination, and judgements thereof shalbe determined and judged from tyme to tyme to the beste of my minde, and accordinge to the litterall sence and meaninge of this my last Will, in everie behalf, and by the exposition and discretion of my said supervisors. And of this my presante Testamente I make and ordaine the said Jane my wiffe, and the said Neimias my youngest sonne, mine executors, chargeinge them, in the name of God, as they will aunswere att the dreadfull daie of dome, that they, and either of them, do see this my last Will diligentlie and faithfullie performed in everie behalf without respect of persons. And of the execution of the same, I make and ordaine my brother, M^r John Pilkington, and M^r Robert Swifte, of Durham, supervisors thereof, prayeing them to give their beste advice and counsell unto my said wiffe, and to be aideinge unto hir in the performaunce of this my last Will and Testamente, and especiallie to deale with her in all freindelic and loveinge manner in takeinge of the said securitie tuchinge my said sonne Neimias as aforesaid. And for there paines to be taken therein I do bequeath to either of my said supervisors one peece of gold, of twentie shillinge the peece, which said bequests, together with thother of my legacies and giftes herein before bequeathed or given as is aforesaid. And for the more speedie accomlisheinge thereof my will and minde is, and I hartielie pray my said executors to pay, give, and discharge the same so convenientlie as the same may be done, but yet so that the same be done with the saiftie and full discharge of my said executors as lawe requireth; and I utterlie revoke and annull all and everie former Testamente and Will whatsoever, as is aforesaid. In wisse whereof I have hereunto subscribed my name and sett my scale unto this my presante last Will and Testamente the daie and yeare firste above written, in the presence of
